SELF GUIDED TOUR
1. The Admissions and Visitor Center
   The team in this building aids prospective students through the admissions process by counseling and offering advice to help you become a Spartan!

2. The School of Education Building
   The School of Education is one of six colleges and schools with undergraduate programs. We offer more than 125 majors and concentrations in areas ranging from business to computer science to interior architecture. Our average class size here at UNCG is about 27 students. While some are larger, we maintain an 18:1 student to faculty ratio.

3. The Foust Building
   The Foust Building is the only remaining building from our original campus. It opened in 1891, the same year UNCG was founded as one of the original three public universities in North Carolina’s state system.

4. Statue of Minerva, Goddess of Wisdom
   The symbol of Minerva at UNCG dates back to our roots as a women’s college and has endured as we’ve grown to a university with 20,000 students. The tradition with Minerva is if the student has a big exam or presentation coming up and they need some good luck, they will take a bite out of an apple and place it on her statue for good luck!

5. The Jackson Library
   The marble entryway leads to a common area with study pods and computers. The basement level houses our Digital Media Commons where students can get help with video and design projects. The study building in the back is the stacks, where the majority of books are and where students can even reserve study rooms.

6. College Avenue and the Honors College
   College Ave divides our campus into two sections, academics and student life. On the north end of College Ave are several residence halls, including our residential colleges. One of these is the Lilla H. Kaplan International Honors College which gives students opportunities for academic enrichment, mentored research, and study abroad.

7. High Rise First-Year Residence Halls
   These are our high-rise style first-year residence halls. None of our students are required to live on campus, but in a typical year, about 80% of our first-year students choose to do so. Freshmen live in one of our traditional residence halls while upperclassmen can choose between a variety of suite and apartment-style options.

8. The Quad
   The Quad is surrounded by suite style living where the sophomores, juniors, and seniors congregate. This is prime location close to the dining hall and everything happening at the EUC.

9. Moran Commons
   Fountain View is our main dining area with 15 unique stations ranging from vegan, to southern cooking, and desserts.

10. The R.A.W.K and The Clock
    The R.A.W.K. stands for “Really Awesome Way to Communicate”. It serves as our on-campus message board. The Clock is part of a superstition that says if you walk underneath, you won’t graduate on time!

11. The Elliott University Center Lawn
    The Elliott University Center, otherwise known as the EUC, is our central hub on campus. The lawn outside the EUC is home to our biggest annual campus events including the homecoming bonfire and block party, and our annual International Festival.

12. Interiors of the Elliott University Center
    There’s a lot going on at the EUC. Here you’ll find the bookstore, food court, and offices that support student growth, like Career and Professional Development and the Office of Leadership and Civic Engagement.

13. Spartan Village Shops and Living
    Spartan Village offers several apartment style student housing options. The street level of each building offers shopping, great spots for lunch, and even a full-service grocery store. The W. Gate City Blvd side of campus is the newest addition and is accessible via the Underpass or one of our Spartan Charter Buses.

14. The Kaplan Center
    The Leonard J. Kaplan Center for Wellness is our student rec center here at UNCG. The gym offers free weights, strength training equipment, and cardio equipment. You’ll also find five basketball courts, spaces to play volleyball, badminton, and indoor soccer; racquetball courts; two swimming pools; studios for our group fitness classes, and our 54-foot indoor rock climbing wall. If working out isn’t your thing, we have nap pods, hydromassage, and a variety of special activities for mental and physical wellness.
